Neighbourhood Cares is a new approach to supporting people on a local level

Most people want to avoid formal social care, and want to make their own decisions as to how they live their lives. Where they do require support they want localised care that reflects and meets their individual needs, and is delivered to them by people they know, in places they find familiar.

We recognise that something needs to change. The Neighbourhood Cares Team will build stronger, more connected communities by helping people to have the support they need: allowing them to live the lives they want to.

Rather than simply signposting people to existing services, we will go a step further by working with local people and communities to develop services that are locally led and locally delivered.
